

Please hear the voice of the consumer. This is all about forcing advertising on unwanted consumers. If I am willing to pay for my entertainment without advertising, how can a free society force me to listen by selectively denying service providers such as XM.